

A Memorable Graduation

After what seemed like weeks of rain, the clouds parted on June 11 just in time for the Class of 2010 to receive their diplomas on Graduation Lawn.

The 46 seniors formed the largest graduating class in SGS history, and recent alumni, friends and families gathered to honor them. Head of School Mo Copeland shared “kind words” about each graduate’s strengths and accomplishments. Then the Angus Scott Pipe Band led the traditional procession up to Davenport House.

After the reception, most of the class inaugurated a new “tradition” by changing into swimwear and jumping into the (very chilly) Little Spokane River. For many reasons, it was a day they won’t soon forget!

Old and new traditions added to the festivities on Graduation Lawn

Delaney Reynolds and Gerhard Muelheims walk in arm-in-arm (top), Kent Pietsch marches in for the Class of 1960 (far left), Caroline Emberton heads toward Davenport House (left), the Class of 2010 on Graduation Bridge (below left), ASB Advisor Mark Rickard shares his wisdom with the grads (below right), and “X” marks the spot where the class of ’10 jumps in the Little Spokane River to finish the day (upper right)

On the Web

See more Graduation photos, the colleges the 2010 graduates will attend, and the list of school award winners at www.sgs.org/news-and-photos

